

HOCKING HILLS SERENITY SALT CAVE

Pet Policy

Hocking Hills Serenity Salt Cave | Pet Policy

Pets are not permitted within Hocking Hills Serenity Salt Cave. Pets are also prohibited from the property grounds unless they are attended to and under the full control of their owner. Pets may not be left alone tied, chained, or otherwise attached to trees, poles, fences, bulletin boards, or other stationary objects. Pet owners will be responsible for all costs involved in removing unattended pets. Pet owners are required to clean up after their pets.

This policy differentiates “service animals” and “assistance animals” from “pets.”

- A service animal, as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), is “a dog that has been individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability.”
- An assistance animal as defined by Housing and Urban Development (HUD) “is not a pet. It is an animal that works, provides assistance, performs a task, or provides emotional support that alleviates one or more” disability-related symptoms.

Service animals may be permitted within the building only upon prior approval. Please do not bring your service animal into the building without formal prior approval from administrative personnel. Both service dogs and assistance animals must be under the full control of their handlers, be in good health, and not be unruly, disruptive, or threatening. The care and supervision of these animals is solely the responsibility of its handler. In such event a service animal is permitted within the building, all guests will be required to follow specific guidelines and/or limitations related to placement of the animal during an appointment. Guests requesting the allowance of a service dog or emotional support animal in the building should first be in contact with the Administrative Policy Department via email communication only to provide documentation and receive approval. Requests and communications shall be submitted to: info@hhserenitiesaltcave.com
